Central Board of Irrigation & Power

in association with

Indian Chapter of International Geosynthetics Society

Geosynthetic products offer to owners, engineers, and contractors a safe and economical solution in everyday engineering challenges and construction requirements. Also as replacements to conventional materials, geosynthetic products include a wide range of functions such as filtration, drainage, separation and reinforcement requirements. The wide range of geosynthetic use includes landfill caps and base liner applications, environmental protection under roads and railways, containment structures, dams, canals, ponds, rivers/lakes, coastal and offshore protection. With the use of geosynthetics, design lifetime of structures can be increased.

The objective of the present Seminar is to deliberate on recent development in the use of geosynthetics in geotechnical, hydraulic, coastal and offshore engineering and also discuss the benefits of geosynthetics to modern building technology.

The Seminar is being organised by the Central Board of Irrigation and Power, in association with the Indian Chapter of International Geosynthetics Society.

ABOUT THE ORGANISERS

The Central Board of Irrigation and Power (CBIP), since its inception in 1927, is engaged in the dissemination of information regarding recent technological advancements in the disciplines of water resources, dam engineering, tunnels and underground works, rock mechanics, geosynthetics, power and renewable energy. Besides, it provides a forum for exchange of experiences, facilitating flow of technology by organisation of symposia, seminars, workshops, training courses, both at national as well as international levels, in liaison with international organisations.

The CBIP acts as Secretariat of the Indian Chapter of many international organisations like International Geosynthetics Society (IGS), International Society for Rock Mechanics and Rock Engineering (ISRM), International Commission on Large Dams (ICOLD), International Tunnelling and Underground Space Association (ITA), International Water Resources Association (IWRA), World Water Council, etc.
